

Dar Al Hadith Al Hassania Institution Organizes its 3rd International Conference on:

Language, Culture, and Religion: Multicultural Perspectives

On May 8-9, 2018

Call for papers and participation

Rationale

That globalization has caused great changes in the texture of cultures, discourses, and cultural practices is not open to doubt. Besides, cultural encounters, shocks, and clashes have increased, and so have their accompanying discourses and narratives. The need for multi-perspective and multicultural approaches has become imperative to reconsider conventional discourses of assimilation or absorption of differences which undermine diversity.

The conference aims to shed light on issues pertaining to language, culture, and religion, at large from, a pluri-disciplinary and/or multicultural perspective for a better understanding of the multiple, multi-faceted, and highly complex relations between the three pivotal components of the triad, language, culture, and religion.

Focal interest areas include (but are not limited to) the following topics:

- ✓ Media, religion, and literature
- ✓ Religion and representations
- ✓ Language, identity, and culture
- ✓ Religion, multiculturalism, and national integration
- ✓ Interfaith dialogue
- ✓ Foreign languages in Islamic Studies programs
- ✓ Cultural diversity and language-planning
- ✓ Religious reforms
- ✓ Islamophobia
- ✓ Translation
- ✓ Religious pluralism
- ✓ Extremism and deradicalization

The languages of the conference are English and French (papers written in French being scheduled to be delivered on May 8, 2018 and papers in English, on May 9, 2018). Presentations will be allocated 15 minutes each. Please, submit your abstracts (between 250 and 300 words) in English to Prof. Nadia Halim at nad_halim@hotmail.com and in French to Prof. Jamal EL QASRI at jamalelqasri@hotmail.com. All submissions go through a rigorous blind review.
